

Role: Clinical Guide Non-Executive Director / Trustee

Reports to: The Board & Chairman

Responsibilities: Advising and guidance on the strategic aspect of delivering high quality clinical services to children and families.

Purpose of the role:

A non-executive director is detached from day-to-day operations and valued for their objective insight. This allows a unique perspective towards corporate governance, risk management, succession planning & high standard clinical services and successful running of the Charity Company. Driving the organisation's vision to deliver Early Intervention to children across Scotland.

General & Key Responsibilities:

- Consultations around clinical decisions
- Guidance on developing shared formulations
- Offering insights on how to enhance the charity's services to complement current NHS provision
- Critically evaluating processes, clinical inputs and outputs

Skills required for this Role:

- Degree in Clinical Psychology.
- Professionally qualified and registered with HCPC
- Must have a good understanding of behaviour science, positive psychology and experience in Early Intervention and interest in Trauma informed PBS
- Influencer, motivator who leads by example
- Strategically and operationally aware.
- Support aspirations and ambitions, be outward-looking and encourage high expectations.

About you

- Organised & Self-Motivated, Enthusiastic, has an eye for detail
- Aware of conflict of interest and therefore not working in the child services
- Ability to assess risk and challenge others in a constructive manner
- Sharing the values and mission of Nurture Steps

You will be given all the required training and support before starting your role.

